WASHINGTON.

Another Bunch of Nominations Sent to the Senate.

WHELEW REID, OF NEW YORK, TO BE MINISTER TO FRANCE.

Senator Sherman believes the Senate will adjourn by the end of this week. Office-seekers see that the President won't be hurried and decide to watch and wait in patience.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The president has sent to the senate the following nominations:

Whitelaw Reid, of New York, to be minister to France.

Julius Goldschmidt, of Wisconsin, consul general at Vienna.

The nomination of Eugene Schuyler, of New York, to be assistant secretary of state, is withdrawn, he having declined the appointment.

Andrew C. Bradley, of the District of Columbia, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

John B. McFie, of New Mexico, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the territory of New Mexico.

Frank R. Aikens, of Dakota, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the territory of Dakota.

A number of postmasters were also appointed.

Whitealaw Reid was born fifty years ago in the town of Xenia, O.

Although an American by birth, he is a Scotchman by direct descent.

On his mother's side Reid is descended from the ancient "Clan Ronalds" of the highlands.

After being graduated from the Miami university he was appointed principal of the graded schools in South Charleston, O.

teaching French, Latin and the higher mathematics to a large number of pupils.

At the age of twenty he bought the Xenia News, and for two years led the life of a country editor.

During this time he mixed considerably in politics, advocating the nomination of Abraham Lincoln for the presidency in 1860.

Shortly after this he went to Columbus, the state capital, as legislative correspondent for the Cincinnati Times, the Cleveland Herald and the Cincinnati Gazette.

He was expected to write three distinct letters each day for these journals, and it was here that he gained the experience which soon after rendered him such a rapid and effective war correspondent.

When the war broke out Reid was city editor of the Cincinnati Gazette.

He left his position and proceeded to front, where, over the signature "Agate," he contributed a series of army letters to his paper, which were read with interest throughout the west.

On his return, in 1863, he was offered the management of a St. Louis paper.

The proprietors of the Gazette, however, rather than lose his services, offered him a considerable interest in the paper.

This laid the foundation of his fortune.

He was expected to continue writing, and was appointed Washington correspondent.

In this capacity he came in contact with all of the eminent men of the day, and with characteristic shrewdness succeeded in making several invaluable friends.

Foremost among them were Secretary Chase and Horace Greeley.

About twenty years ago Mr. Reid finally resolved to accede to the solicitations of his friend, Mr. Greeley, and connect himself with the staff of the Tribune.

He was given the post of first editorial writer. He remained in this position writing most of the political leaders until the resignation of John Russell Young, the managing editor.

Mr. Reid was then installed in the position and immediately proceeded to run the paper upon strict business principles.

Confirmed by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations:

Rathbone Gardner, district attorney for Rhode Island.

Elbert O. Weed, district attorney for Montana.

James C. Perry and Alex. C. Smith, assistant surgeons in the marine hospital service.

Smith A. Whitfield, second assistant postmaster general.

Abraham D. Hazen, third assistant postmaster general.

Samuel B. Thayer, minister to the Netherlands.

William M. Thomas, Jr., minister to Norway and Sweden.

The Senate's Work.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Senator Sherman says that the senate would doubtless adjourn by the end of this week.

It was the 4th of April when that body adjourned four years ago, and not the last week in March, as has been indicated.

"There will be no difficulty about filling the offices that have to be filled," said he; "the appointments can be made along from day to day, and the senate can confirm them when it meets in December next. It is not likely that the senate will refuse to confirm many nominations. The chances are that if an appointment is made the case will have been investigated and there will be no reason for a refusal to confirm."

"Of course it happens, or may happen, that some information about an official will come to light after his appointment that would make it the duty of the senate to refuse to confirm, but the principal places will, in the main, be filled by the end of this week, and it does not frequently happen that the senate finds it necessary to refuse to confirm the minor appointments."

He Takes His Time.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The horde of office seekers here has settled down into the conviction that it is the part of wisdom as well as necessity to watch and wait with patience. The president will not make haste nor allow any one to hurry him. He means to know just what he is doing and to do it well. So while he has not made a great many appointments, those appointments are good ones and do not have to be excused or defended.

Minor Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Secretary Tracy has appointed J. B. Davis to be foreman of the gun shops and foundry, and George R. Wilson to be foreman of the gun carriage and projectile shops, Washington navy yard.

Cap. Edmund R. Morse, of Rutland, Vt., has been appointed private secretary to Secretary Proctor.

DISASTER AT SEA.

The Report of the Sinking of the Remus Confirmed—Forty-Two Lives Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—The City of Pekin arrived here Monday with mail advices from Chili confirming the report by cable of the loss of the coasting steamer Remus among the Philippine Islands on January 30, when forty-two out of 169 people on board were drowned.

The steamer was taken out of the Philippine Islands by various stations on the Philippine Islands.

She struck a reef near Point Bilaran about thirty-five fathoms of water. The gunboat Argus picked up the surviving officers and passengers. The Remus was a Spanish vessel.

A SHIP CANAL.

Scheme on Foot to Construct One Across the Upper Michigan Peninsula.

LANSING, Mich., March 20.—W. H. Morrell, of New York, arrived here Monday to endeavor to induce the legislature to grant a charter of the proposed ship canal across the upper peninsula, connecting Lakes Michigan and Superior.

The route selected is thirty-six miles long, and begins at Bay-au-Train, about fifteen miles east of Marquette. Its southern terminus will be Little Bay de Noc, near Gladstone.

Two locks will be necessary and its projectors state that the cost will be less than the proposed canal improvements at Sault Ste. Marie. It will save to ship commerce a distance of 271 miles each way between Duluth and Chicago.

Mr. Morrell says he has an abundance of New York and Chicago capital interested, and that the ship canal company will be organized within sixty days after a charter is granted.

Senator Stockbridge is looking after the matter in congress.

A WARM RECEPTION

Given a Gang of Tramps by Citizens of Anderson, Indiana.

ANDERSON, Ind., March 20.—People hereabouts have been much annoyed lately by a gang of tramps who have been insulting women. Eight of them were found in the Midland depot Monday night, where they had forced an entrance and taken possession.

The town marshal and thirty citizens, armed with poles and barrel staves, went to the depot and formed a gauntlet along the railroad. The tramps were made to run through these lines, being well belabored as they passed on.

They were unmercifully whipped, the blood trickling from many of them. It has been nearly three years since Anderson was bothered by tramps, it being the custom here to run them through a gauntlet into the river.

A Model Gun Boat.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—A representative of a prominent engineering firm of Philadelphia, who was present at the opening of bids for building the machinery of the armored cruiser Maine, gave it as his opinion and that of his firm, that the specification for the machinery are the most complete and most perfect of any machinery specifications which they had ever seen, and that if they were given an order to build machinery regardless of expense, but to be complete in every particular, they would unhesitatingly take the Maine's specifications as a model.

This is a decidedly high compliment to the bureau of steam engineering which prepared the specifications and the design of the machinery, and augurs well for the success of the Maine and of the other vessels whose designs are now in progress in that bureau.

Small Change Ready.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The secretary of the treasury has issued a circular stating that all persons desiring the five cent nickel pieces, and one cent bronze pieces can have the same forwarded to them from the United States mint at Philadelphia, to points reached by express companies, free of transportation, in sums of $20 or multiply of that amount upon receipt and collection by the superintendent of that unit of a draft on New York or Philadelphia, payable to his order. To points not reached by express companies, and where delivery under contract with the government is thus impracticable, the coin can on the same terms be sent by registered mail at the applicant's risk, the registry fee to be paid by the government.

Superintendent Irwin Exonerated.

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 20.—The coroner's jury in the case of James Magee and William Logan, killed on Saturday at the gas main explosion at Harrison City, brought in a verdict attributing their deaths to a misunderstanding between Superintendent James Irwin and Foreman H. D. Dougherty.

This exonerated Mr. Irwin, who had been arrested, charged with murder. The evidence at the inquest showed that the mistake had occurred in the transmission of Mr. Irwin's orders.

Ex-President Cleveland Starts for Cuba.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Ex-President Cleveland in company with ex-Postmaster Dickinson and William Vilas left the Victoria hotel a little after 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

The party was driven to the DeBrosses street ferry and crossed over to Jersey City, where the distinguished gentlemen boarded a train for Washington en route to Cuba.

COLCHESTER, N. Y., March 20.—Navigation on Lake Erie may now be considered fairly open as the ice in the end of the lake has entirely disappeared under the influence of the mild weather and northerly winds which have prevailed for the past ten days.

FRANCE UNEASY

At the Attempts of the German Government

TO GAIN A FOOTHOLD ON THE NORTHERN COAST OF AFRICA.

Germany Believed to Have Influence in Italy—The American Pilgrims Receive an Affectionate Greeting From the Pope—O'Brien Don't Want Conditional Liberty—Foreign Notes.

LONDON, March 20.—The hand of Germany can be seen in the renomination of Signor Brin as Italian minister of marine. If he had been superseded the naval department would not only have been thrown into the natural confusion consequent upon a new regime, but many subordinates who have been useful to Bismarck during their tenure of office would have taken much time and money to convince their successors of the expedience of acquiring German affiliations.

The corruption of the minor Italian officials is a fertile subject, now as in the past, for the pasquinades of the small wits of Rome, but their reputation for venality does not appear to trouble them in the least, they probably considering the meagre salaries paid to them as a sufficient palliation for their indirect manner of reaping themselves.

It seems to be definitely settled that the Italian army corps will be reduced from twelve in number, the money thus saved to be devoted to the naval budget, and contrary to all announcement the strong defensive works on the Col. de l'Ecluse will be still further added to, the difficulty in mobilizing troops exhibited in the last maneuvers having plainly shown the necessity of rendering the passes from France into Italy as near impregnable as the resources of science can make them.

In case of war the frontier can thus be held until assistance arrives from Italy's allies.

Much uneasiness is felt in France at the persistent attempts of Germany to gain a foothold on the southern shore of the Mediterranean.

The sultan of Morocco has had a great deal of diplomatic fencing with the syndicate of German merchants who have been endeavoring for some time to acquire privileges in a harbor and concessions to trade with the interior of that not very hospitable state.

The mild and genial Muley Hassan is hardly disposed to believe the stories of German greatness and the prowess in war of that country, but the fleet of Italy is a tangible and visible entity and the representations that its owner is a tributary vassal to the great German emperor cannot fail to have a strong effect on the Moorish potentate.

With the command of a port so near Algiers it would not be long before some awkward question of interference would spring up, affording an excuse for recriminations or hostilities at need. It is not so much the importance of the traffic as the opportunity for founding a German colony that is desired.

The Pope and the Pilgrims.

ROME, March 20.—At noon Monday the holy father received the American pilgrims. They were divided into three sections. The priests were received in the throne room, the laymen in another, and the ladies in a third. Never was a reception more enthusiastic or more cordial.

As the holy father approached the pilgrims he addressed them as they knelt in a most friendly and loving manner. No father could be more loving and affectionate to his children. He spoke in Italian as follows:

"Brave Americans! You are the first Americans to visit the Holy Land, the place in which our Lord Jesus Christ suffered and died. Other nations, such as France, Spain, Italy, Germany and others have from time to time formed pilgrimages to holy places, but Americans have been rather slow in organizing bands of pilgrims. I trust that after this first pilgrimage others will follow, but even this is not enough. It is my desire that missions be established there. The Franciscans have for some time taken charge of holy places, and they are doing all they can to promote devotion towards them. Again I say that I am very glad that you have given the first, I trust, of these pilgrimages, and I hope that you will have a prosperous journey and safe return."

Coming to the banner of the pilgrims and looking at the eagle and American flag painted upon it, he said: "That is the standard of a brave and free people, and I hope God will bless them, and enable them to maintain their freedom."

Various religious articles held up by the pilgrims were blessed, and all their requests for indulgences most generously granted. Each pilgrim most fervently and reverently kissed the ring and hands of the sovereign pontiff, and at the end he bestowed upon all the apostolic blessing, the priests in a body giving the responses. He gave each one the faculty of imparting the apostolic benediction to his congregation.

At their exit from the presence of the holy father each pilgrim was presented with a silver medal of the holy father's jubilee, inclosed in a handsome locket. All came from the Vatican palace very enthusiastic.

One who knows says never was any reception more loving or more friendly than that given to the American pilgrims. After the audience the pilgrims adjourned in a body to a neighboring photograph gallery, where the whole group, with the pilgrim banner in the background and the stars and stripes floating proudly over them, was taken.

BELGRADE, March 20.—The report that an engagement had been made between the regents and Milan that Natalie should not be allowed to return to Servia is officially denied. It is said that a gunboat has been ordered to Jalta to bring Natalie back to Belgrade.

LONDON, March 20.—Mr. William O'Brien refuses to accept his liberty on the condition imposed by Presiding Justice Hannen, of the Parnell commission, that he abstain from agitation during the period of his release.

A Mysterious Correspondence.

LONDON, March 20.—A Paris dispatch says it has been noticed that of late there has been a frequent interchange of dispatches between the Vatican and various parts of France.

Two Great Gifts.

ROME, March 20.—Bishop Keane, president of the new Washington university, Monday presented to the pope two gentlemen of Washington who contributed magnificent sums to the institution. It is stated that each subscribed $1,500,000. The pope thanked them warmly for their magnificent gifts.

America Ahead as Usual.

LONDON, March 20.—The second prize for English orations at Cambridge university has been awarded to Mr. William H. Buckler, of Baltimore, half brother to Mr. W. H. White, secretary of the American legation. The winners of the first and third prizes have completed their third year at the university, while Mr. Buckler is in his second year. The subject chosen by Mr. Buckler was "The American Constitution," in which he displayed rare oratorical skill and an intimate knowledge of the foundation of his country's laws. Mr. Buckler was presented to the prince of Wales at his royal highness' levee at St. James' palace last Friday.

At an election held in Zelle, Hanover, Monday, for member of the reichstag, the National Liberal candidate was defeated by the nominee of the Old Hanoverian party. This is the eighth loss of a seat to the government since the general election in 1887.

The Panama Canal company announces that a further extension of the provisional contract has been arranged with the contractors which secures the maintenance of the works and material. The official liquidator does not despair of forming a new company.

Gen. Boulanger, in a letter to the electors of the department of the north, announcing the circumstances requiring him to represent the department of the Seine, says: "Happily, the assembly, which some political or financial scandal from time to time galvanize into life, is virtually dead. Its legal death will, six months hence, again place the country face to face with itself. Then you and I will again be ready to continue the struggle in behalf of liberty, which is denied, and of law, which is trampled upon."

CHILIAN NEWS.

The Want European Emigrants but No Chinese—Trouble With Bolivia.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Late Chilean advices state that the Chilean government has issued a decree prohibiting the immigration of Chinese into the republic. The Chilean government has sent orders to immigration agents in Europe authorizing them to give free passage to all who desire to emigrate to Chili, where on arrival they will receive board and lodging for fifteen days.

The Bolivian and Chilean governments are engaged in a dispute over the action taken by the latter in Antofagasto. The Chilean minister of foreign affairs, in reply to a protest from Bolivia, says Chili considers as annexed to her territory all land south of the twenty-third parallel; that Chili exercises determined jurisdiction over the rest of the coast, and that while Chili entertains the most friendly intentions to Bolivia, it does not accept the conditions of the coast to be such as claimed by Bolivia.

Lusters Return to Work.

Three lusters who had returned to their work.

WEDNESDAY EVE, MARCH 20 1890.

CHARLES KINCAID, the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times, says: "Mr. Hutchins, of Maysville, who wants to be Collector in the Lexington district, has returned to camp on Col. Goodloe's trail."

COLONEL WALTER EVANS didn't succeed in getting his old position of Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Miller, Democrat, has been succeeded by Mason, Republican, and Colonel Swope is now satisfied, as the Evans crowd are "in the soup."

THE recent Democratic primary in the Nicholas-Robertson district to nominate a candidate for Representative resulted in a victory for Dr. C. W. Mathers, of Carlisle, who carried Nicholas by a large majority. Judge Lytle had a small majority in Robertson. The Judge has many friends in Mason who will regret to learn of his defeat.

THE Frankfort correspondent of the Covington Commonwealth says Lieutenant-Governor Bryan, Attorney General Hardin and Judge Milt. Durham are candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor to succeed General Simon Bolivar Buckner. The contest for the offices seems to be commencing early all around. The election is about two years off.

ANOTHER Democratic candidate for the office of County Clerk comes to the front to-day in the person of Mr. John C. Lovel. His announcement appears elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Lovel has been General Storekeeper under Collector Robinson, of this district the past four years and has made a splendid official, having discharged his duties in a very faithful and efficient manner. As a Democrat he has always been one of the most zealous and earnest workers to be found for the party nominees. He is well qualified for the place he seeks, and his opponents will find him a very formidable candidate.

PRESIDENT HARRISON seems to have greatly displeased some of the "bread-and-butter" brigade of Indiana Republicans. Here is what one of the spoilsmen has to say on the subject:

"If General Harrison keeps on appointing Sunday school men and ignoring the party workers—the men who wake nights to devise schemes to beat the Democrats—four years hence he will return home and carry his own grip-sack from the depot without even being recognized by a bootblack."

This is "tough" on the new President. It is the same old cry of the disappointed office-seekers. Here is something more on the same order uttered by a Republican of Indianapolis:

"Harrison is a selfish, cold, ungrateful hypocrite who thinks himself of more importance to the Republican party than the party is to him."

The row in the Republican camp seems but to have commenced. There's fun ahead, and the Democrats are in a position to enjoy it.

The local correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal gives Mason County's worthy Circuit Clerk a flattering send-off for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. He says:

"While the newspaper exchanges are engaged in the harmless occupation of making up the slate for the next State Democratic ticket, they should write down the name of Ben D. Parry, the well-known Clerk of the Mason Circuit Court, who may at the right time and in a proper manner yield to the calls upon him, and shy his castor into the ring for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Mr. Parry's experience as Circuit Clerk admirably fits him for the position, and his strong personal popularity in case he made up his mind to contest for the prize, would insure him earnest supporters, who would see him nominated or know the reason why. The mere announcement of his candidacy would make this portion of the State solid for him."

Providing for Free Turnpikes.

The subject of free turnpikes is receiving considerable attention in some portions of the State. Especially is this the case in Harrison County, where the question is figuring largely in the Legislative race. The advocates seem determined to devise some method of bringing about the change. One plan suggested is embodied in the following, which is a bill introduced in the last Legislature by Judge P. P. Johnson, of Lexington:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: 1. That the counties through which turnpike roads run, in which the State owns stock, shall have the right to purchase said stock from the State at a price per share that will, at 6 per cent interest, yield the State an income equal to that paid by said stock. In estimating the value of said stock the annual average dividend paid the State the last five years shall be the guide; and if in any case the State's stock in a road shall not have paid any dividend in the last five years, the stock in said road shall be conveyed to the counties without charge, in the same proportion that said counties might purchase if it was a dividend-paying road.

2. The amount of stock in a turnpike road that a county may purchase or have conveyed, as provided in the last section, shall bear nearly the same proportion to all the stock owned by the State in such road that the portion of the road in said county bears to the entire road. And in estimating said proportion, fractions of over one-half shall be considered a full mile; and fractions less than one-half shall not be estimated at all.

3. The several counties where turnpikes are situated may purchase the stock of any turnpike, situated to whole or in part in their respective limits, from the State and from other corporations or parties, and pay for the same out of the county levy.

4. The Sinking Fund Commissioners shall execute the provisions of this act on part of the State when called on by any of the said counties to do so, and the Courts of Civils shall act for the counties.

5. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. This measure was reported favorably by the Committee on Revenue and Tax.

JUDGE DURHAM is spoken of for Civil Service Commissioner to represent the Democratic end of that board. The place pays $3,500 per annum. The Judge is also spoken of as a candidate for Governor to succeed General Buckner. He is not apt to refuse the place first named if it is tendered him, as Colonel Bryan and General Hardin are said to have their eyes on the Governorship, and Mr. Durham knows what a contest against either of these would mean.

James O'Neill.

The appearance of Mr. James O'Neill, as Count of Monte Cristo, at opera house next Saturday night, will be a dramatic event of the season.

An exchange says: "As Edmond Dantes, who afterwards appears as the Count of Monte Cristo, Mr. O'Neill is one of the most polished and finished actors on the American stage. His portrayal of the character is well nigh perfect, and so true to nature that the strange but powerful story appears as a realization. His magnificent physique, his striking demeanor, in fact his whole conduct through the vicissitudes of the romantic life of the sailor, the prisoner and the Count, makes the character one of the grandest on the stage. Indeed, the play which Fechter made is rendered standard by O'Neill."

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by Superintendent Galbraith for 1888-89.

NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT—SARDIS.

There are eighty-four pupils on roll, with an average attendance of seventy-one. The trustees have been very attentive on the wants of the school. The school is taught in hired rooms, but there will be a new house within another year.

The patrons manifest unusual interest in this district. That is probably largely due to the character of the school, for good work in the school room, such as enlists the interest of the pupils, likewise enlists the interest of the patrons.

This school is in charge of W. R. Chandler, an able and efficient teacher. He is ably assisted by L. L. Lowe, who has charge of the primary department. This school throughout is under rational and practical management. As Mr. Chandler reports: "The pupils, even down to the younger, in primary classes, seem to comprehend, explain and practically apply their work." Here is the key-note—the work is not addressed merely to verbal memory on the one hand or routine on the other; but it is rational, it is the understanding that the teacher reaches. In other words, Mr. Chandler has the tact of bringing common sense into his school work. Common sense is the very best guide and guarantee of good work in the school room, and yet is the rarest. We exercise common sense every where else, but there we mount upon stilted methods, and do everything possible to disgust the pupils with the branches we design to teach. What would you think of our school room methods in the practical work of a mechanic's shop, a printing office or on a farm? To think of these is to acknowledge the absurdity of much of that which is done in the name of education.

We want more teachers who can lift themselves above classes and the pedantry of school methods and reach their pupils individually—reach their understanding. Interest them, and lay the foundation of self reliance and activity in the child's mind. We are educating a race of dwarfs. The whole system of our common schools lacks character and strength. We must teach less for book and train more for character. Honesty, energy, devotion to principle and intelligent self-reliance are the elements that fit the individual for his duties as a social being. Yet in their practical working our schools make secondary to the multiplication table and the rules of syntax. We need to return to the good old days when the product of the common school was a genuine manhood; and while Mr. Chandler's is not the only school in the county in which this rational training is found, it is a marked characteristic of his work as an educator; and I wish to emphasize its value by making it the subject of special mention in this school, where there is so much that is interesting. It would be profitable to examine the class recitation and see how it is so managed as to reach each pupil and keep up constant watchfulness and criticism on their part. But I deem it best to pass all of that and close with a quotation from Mr. Chandler's report: "I think I have accomplished more—at least I am better satisfied with the results—than in any term in six years. I have advancement here that I have never seen in pupils of their age."

Mr. Chandler's school has a very good patronage from abroad; and when her new school building has been built, Sardis may well be proud of her school.

DR. HENRY closed his series of lectures in this city on psychology and mesmerism at the court house last night. His subject last night was "The Reproductive System." He spoke for an hour and a half to his audience, and gave them some valuable information that ought to be more generally known by all men. He leaves to-day for his home at Cincinnati. In response to urgent solicitations he will return some time next week and give one more public lecture here. He was complimented very highly on his lecture last night by some of the best citizens of Maysville.

Aberdeen Marriages.

From January 1, 1888, to January 1, 1889, the 'Squire married 321 couples. Total from January 1, 1888, to date 386 couples.

The principal part of the above were from Kentucky, but some of them were from Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan.

A Mason Countain Coming to the Front.

The Cincinnati Post has a very complimentary sketch of W. A. Bennett, a prominent young lumber merchant of that city. Mr. Bennett was born at Dover in 1854. In 1872 he started in with C. W. & S. G. Boyd, lumber dealers of Cincinnati, on a small salary. In 1884 he and Charles H. Witte entered into business for themselves and handled $100,000 worth of lumber the first year on commission. The Post says: "Their business has extended from a local trade to one reaching from the Atlantic out through Indiana and Michigan, and it makes a splendid showing on their books. They never give a note and they can tell every night just how they stand financially."

"Both gentlemen are right in the flush of young manhood, have a large circle of influential business friends and are confident of continued success. They are spoken of with strong indorsement all around."

At St. Patrick's Church.

Last night the Mission services at St. Patrick's Church were well attended. The exercises began with an interesting instruction by Father McGeough, followed with the Rosary and one of the most forcible and eloquent sermons it has been the pleasure of the congregation to hear for some time. The discourse was delivered by Very Rev. Father McLoughlin, who took for his subject: "At the Great Tribunal." After speaking at some length on the ways of the world the Rev. Father carried his audience to the "Great Tribunal," and there the sufferings of the souls of the damned and the judgment to be passed on them were most vividly portrayed. The sermon was indeed an eloquent and instructive one and the edifice should have been crowded to hear it.

The Very Rev. Father will take for his topic to-night: "Is There a Hell?" and judging from the discourse of last evening the subject will be handled in an able manner. Every seat in the church should be occupied. Services will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

The Railroads.

Last week 460 car-loads of ice were shipped South over the J., M. and I.

The C. & O. pay-car arrived last evening from Covington and left this morning for points above.

Warren County, Kentucky, has voted $350,000 in the past month or so to aid in building two roads.

The Kentucky Midland has contracted for its rolling stock and the first engine is expected by the last of this month.

The Kentucky Union Company have bought over $40,000 worth of land at Winchester, in addition to the $12,000 paid for the depot sites. It is reported that the land will be used for car-shops.

One of first acts of Mr. Harahan upon taking charge of the C. & O., was the appointment of J. W. Sherwood as Division Superintendent, with headquarters at Hinton, Va. Mr. Sherwood is highly spoken of.

D. W. Bagby the driver of the street car that was struck by the locomotive at Pike, street Covington, same weeks since has filed suit against the K. C. R. R., and the C. & O. R. R., and Covington and Cincinnati Elevated R. R. for $10,000 damages. He says one of his legs was badly wrenched by the collision. It looks like Bagby is placing his damages rather high.

The Indianapolis Car-works turns out 1,200 more wheels a year than it needs, though 152 wheels are used every day in this works. Last week the company sold 6,000, securing contracts to furnish several roads with their wheels for the next six months, the Ohio & Mississippi and the C. H. & D. being of the number. On freight-car wheels a guarantee of four years' service is given, and on wheels for passenger coaches a guarantee they will run 60,000 miles.

SAMUEL OTTO died about 8 o'clock this morning at his home on West Front street, after a lingering illness from some dropsical affection. The deceased was a son of the late Frederick Otto, and was born January 12, 1859. His wife, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brenner, survives him. He was a member of the German Relief Society and the Knights of Honor. The funeral will take place to-morrow or Friday.

How Postmaster Hill, of Texas, Got $15,000.

The telegram of the drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, announced that Manor, Texas, had fallen heir to a portion of the $600,000. The lucky holder of part of the ticket was Postmaster John E. Hill, a deserving man. Although a staunch Democrat, (his father having been killed while serving in the Confederate army), Mr. Hill has the unanimous endorsement of the citizens of Manor for re-appointment. With part of the money he drew last month he has bought a farm of 400 acres for $10,000.—Austin (Tex.) Statesman, January 17th.

AN exchange of Denison, Texas, has a very complimentary notice of a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hall, of this city. It says: "Mr. L. C. Hall, who has been one of Messrs. O'Reilly & Behan's principal salesmen since the establishment of that firm in Denison, accompanies the concern back to Dallas. Mr. Hall's companionable temperament not less than his courteous frankness of demeanor have made him in this city quite a social favorite, and the intelligence of his departure will be heard with regret by a wide circle of friends. Especially will he be missed by our musical circles, where the voice of his vibrant and sonorous 'basso' will create a void that it will be exceedingly difficult to fill."

OUR NEIGHBORS.

SHANNON.

We had a visit from John Alexander, the four months old baby-boy of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Watson. He is a splendid fellow and pulls down the counter scales at twenty-four pounds.

Dr. Browning has bought sixty acres of land at fifty dollars per acre with a new tobacco barn on same, and presented it to his son "Wood." It is a part of the Calvin Bland farm. Wood has packed off his college clothes, rolled up his sleeves, and gone to work in earnest.

Miss Alice Bailey, of Santa Clara, Cal., niece of Mrs. A. J. Styles, of Shannon, and her sister, Miss Laura Bailey, will visit Honoluh, one of the Sandwich Islands, the first of April, spending the summer at this delightful island resort.

A letter from Bourbon says the Thackston's are getting comfortably fixed at Hincheston Place and must all their old Mason friends new in Bourbon with new houses have called, including Sam Marston and wife and Miss Emma Stoker. Mrs. Thackston's mother and aunt, from Poplar Plains, are helping her to arrange her furniture, put down carpets, &c.

Mr. Charles Bland, one of the best farmers on Shannon, celebrated his fifth anniversary with a birthday dining on Sunday last, his accomplished daughters, Misses Ollie and Nancy Bland presiding as hostesses. All his immediate family were present, including fourteen descendants, Richard Pyles and his daughter Mrs. Ollie Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, and Rev. Dr. Anderson were among the guests.

A. R. Burgess drumming for the Walker Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, Cincinnati, Dave Hechinger, the prince of clothing merchants, Jno. D. Wood, host of a new dining house, Maysville, and Thomas R. Plister, candidate for County Judge, held a matinee at Watson's store Tuesday last. They had many callers and formed many new acquaintances.

Plister is finely qualified for the position he seeks, plays his role gracefully as a candidate, and is a "bustler" that will be hard to get away with, and "don't you forget it."

GERMANTOWN.

Miss Maggie Barton has returned after a protracted visit to Ironton and Caldwellburg. This State Sunday school evangelist will have an institute at the Christian Church soon.

Rev. Bright has been engaged in a protracted meeting for about two weeks at Bridgeville.

Uncle Jacob Downing, who will be ninety years old in a few weeks, was in town recently visiting relatives.

The first quarterly meeting for this circuit, M. E. Church, South, will be held at Hebron the fifth Sunday in this month.

Geo. Sheeler has replaced the Samuel Thompson farm, north of town, and will keep bachelor's hall unless he can secure a partner.

Miss Mary E. Savage, who spent the winter with her relatives here, will be married at her home in Missouri during the second week in April.

A fine gelding belonging to Joseph F. Walton, with a crippled tool, was hauled to Maysville on Monday, standing erect in a wagon. It was a novel sight.

Dr. A. H. Follock passed his seventy-ninth birthday last week. His brother, Dr. Isaac Follock, and wife passed the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding a few weeks since.

Mrs. John H. Walton and wife and Mrs. Sallie Tyler have returned from their sojourn in the "Sunny South," and say they think that old Kentucky is the best country on the globe.

It is only the middle of March, yet the surface of the earth is carpeted with green, the warble and chatter of the migrating birds fill the air with music, "the song of the turtle is heard in the land, while the opening bud, the blooming flower and all nature smiles with gratitude to the Giver of all good, Man, wicked, sinful, ungrateful, made in the likeness and image of his God, is the one darkest spot upon the face of a created universe. It is not reasonable that there should be one day an appointed time when the pure shall be separated from the vile, the just from the unjust, the lovely and beautiful from the sinful and revolting, when the "wicked shall cease from troubling and the weary be at rest."

J. C. KLEIN TALKS

Concerning the Action of the Germans in Samoa.

BISMARCK'S MINIONS MAKE LIGHT OF THE AMERICAN NAVY.

But Their Aggressiveness Takes a Back Seat When the Stars and Stripes are Waved in Their Faces—The Samoan Islanders With Proper Treatment Would Develop into a Worthy People.

St. Louis, March 20.—John C. Klein, the newspaper correspondent who recently became a conspicuous figure in the Samoan trouble, passed through the city Monday on his way east, going from here directly to Chicago, where he will remain for a few days. After relating his experiences in Samoa, which have already been related in these dispatches, Mr. Klein said:

"The Germans make light of the American navy, but I tell you they were not very aggressive when the stars and stripes waved in their faces. Why, when they took Gillan off the Richmond, on the ground that he was a spy, Capt. Geogtessen and Capt. Hinsel sent word that if he was not returned at once they would board the Adler with an armed force and take him, and Gillan was promptly restored. Dr. Knappe, the German consul, used to walk up and down the beach every day and inspect Mataafa's boats. Oh, how they wanted to blow them up, but they did not dare to. They were in neutral waters, and they knew that to touch those boats meant a fight. Their manner toward every one and every thing that was not German or allied to the Germans was as offensive as it could be. They would scowl at any one they saw about the American consulate and make all sorts of offensive remarks about them."

"What sort of people are the Samonns?" "They are a kind good-natured people, and, unlike unmy of the nations on the islands, they will fight against the Europeans. Most of the islanders acknowledge without question European supremacy, and whatever white men want they may have for the taking; but you know American and European vessels have been there so much, and they have done so much trading with the resident foreigners that they have obtained a slight idea of civilization. Like all the people of the tropics, they are indolent, but they do work enough to prosper, and if the civilized nations, which can exercise an influence over them, would treat them justly, they would develop into a worthy people. But the Germans take their land for a song and their labor for almost nothing, so they have no chance to improve their condition."

OKLAHOMA BOOMERS.

Indian Scouts and Government Troops Driving Out the Invaders.

St. Louis, March 20.—The latest news from Oklahoma is that many of the boomers, instead of leaving the country, as ordered by Lieut. Carson, who is in command of the United States soldiers, are taking to the woods and concealing themselves in camps, especially in the forests along the north fork of the Canadian river. This has left at Oklahoma station only those who are employed by the government or by the railroad company.

Indian scouts are scouring the woods and thickets for these camps, and soldiers are scouting the country in every direction, and wherever boomers are found they are ordered to leave and get over the line as rapidly as possible. There has been but little opposition to the soldiers, but some of the boomers claim that since the cession of the country by the Creeks the land is public domain, and that the military has no right to drive them from it.

Boomers Resist.

New York, March 20.—The World has the following special from Oklahoma: A squad of boomers on the Crutcho, east of here, resisted Lieut. Carson and the troops Monday in their attempt to remove them. Pistol shots were fired and clubs used. No one was seriously injured, though Arnold and Adams, boomers, were severely beaten on the head with revolvers. William Adams made his escape.

The others were bound with ropes and brought here, where they are held under guard. Lieut. Carson received several slight wounds, though none of them are considered dangerous. He is the son of Maj. John M. Carson, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger.

DAGOS AND HUNS.

Lively Sunday in a Mining Town—Almost a Lynching.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 20.—A number of Italian and Hungarian miners at Hickory Swamp were gambling in a boarding house Sunday, when an Italian was detected cheating. A quarrel arose, and after a vigorous rough-and-tumble fight, a Hungarian drew a revolver and commenced firing into the crowd, wounding two men. Weapons of every kind were then drawn, and Andrew Venti received a knife thrust in the neck, while several others were slashed in a frightful manner.

During the struggle Michael Sisson left the scene and went home. Finding his wife in bed and asleep he picked her up in his arms and throwing her on the floor kicked her terribly. When in the midst of his brutal work the woman gave premature birth to a dead child. A body of Hungarians who were attracted by the woman's screams, entered the house, and secured a clothes line to lynch Sisson, but he escaped from a window, and fled to the mountains.

Indiana Coal Operators in Secret Sessions.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 20.—The Indiana coal operators are in session at Terre Haute, considering the outlook for the ensuing year. The scale question is the principal point being discussed, but as yet no conclusion has been reached. They held a meeting of about two hours' duration Monday afternoon with closed doors. President D. J. Jenne said to a reporter that the meeting was strictly of a private nature, and that no information would be given to the press in regard to what action would be taken. The committee sent by Indiana operators to the Columbus convention, made their report, in which they set forth their reasons for withdrawing from that convention. It is believed that they will remain firm in their demand for a reduction of twenty cents per ton from last year's scale.

Ex-President Hayes Chips In.

New York, March 20.—Ex-President Hayes has sent a contribution to the fund for the Confederate soldiers' home. In his letter he takes the ground that Union soldiers should receive increasingly large amounts in pensions, but that it is inequitable proper and desirable that the disabled soldiers of the other side, who are now citizens of our common country, should be generously aided by voluntary contributions.

Flagler at the Ponce de Leon.

Bad for Pawnbrokers.

BOSTON, March 20.—A number of pawnbrokers have surrendered their licenses on account of a police order that descriptions of every person pawning goods, as well as a schedule of the goods, be reported to the police every day. Unless the order is revoked it is probable that all the pawnbrokers will give up their licenses and carry on business as collateral bankers, free from police supervision.
